ST. MARY'S NEW CHURCH.

The Corner Stone Laid With Impressive

Ceremonies Yesterday. With imposing ceremonies and in the presence of a great concourse of people the corner stone of the new church edifice of St. Mary's parish was laid yesterday afternoon. The location of the new church building, on 5th street between G and H streets northwest, was the central point, about which the people began to gather long before the hour assigned for the ceremony. A covered platform was erected over the foundation in the front portion of the building, and this was occupied by the clergy and laity, who had been invited to witness the ceremonies. At 3 o'clock a procession was formed at Scott Circle of the Catholic societies of the city. Under the direction of the chief marshal, Mr. J. H. Buscher, and to the music of the brass bands the line of the parade moved over the route in the order which has been printed in THE STAR. The fine appearance of the marching columns, which comprised some twelve or fifteen hundred men, was commented upon by the spectators, who assembled along the route to witness the display.

CEREMONIES ON THE SITE. When the procession drew near the church site the clergy, attended by acolytes, came out from the adjoining residence of the pastor, Father Glaab, and proceeded to the platform. The clergy present were as follows: Very Rev. P. Cooney, Rev. James O'Brien, Rev. P. Choevanice, Rev. F. Bishop, Rev. S. T. Ryan, Rev. O'Connell; the following assistants to the bishop: Rev. Friesbier, C.S.R.; Rev. Dr. Dyer. Choristers—Rev. T. Donoghue and Rov. E. A. Williams.

The ceremonies were conducted by Risher A. A. Curtis of Wilmington, Del., and after the foundation walls of the new edifice had been blessed and sprinkled with holy water the stone was blessed and set in place. The trowel used was the one that figured in the ceremony forty-four years ago, when the corner stone of the old church was laid. It is owned by Mr. Urban Geier, a member of the church. The articles placed in the copper box sealed in the corner stone included copies of several English and German newspapers, foreign and American coins, including United States coins of every denomination, photographs of Father Glasb and the church building committee and a written history in brief of the parish.

The members of the building committee Rudolph Eichborn, John Ardeeser, Henry Rup-pert, Philip May, Frank Miller and Robert Ber-berich, assisted in the ceremony of laying the

THE ADDRESS. After the corner stone was laid an address was delivered in German by Rev. Alphonsus Preiss of Baltimore. Bishop Curtis then spoke in English and dwelt upon the devotion displayed in the erection of a building to be devoted to the worship of God. The services of the day when the bishop finished speaking were brought to a

After the services Bishop Curtis and the visiting clergy were entertained at dinner in Father Glaab's house, prominent members of the congregation also being present.

A STRICKEN FAMILY.

Death of the Son-in-Law of the Defaulting Treasurer of Maryland.

Troubles continue to come on the family of Stevenson Archer, ex-state treasurer of Maryland, who is now serving a term of five years suddenly. It was he who suggested and secured the election of Mr. Archer to the state treasurership. He stood by his father-in-law in all the recent troubles and was the friend who last parted from him as the defaulter entered the penitentiary. The disgrace affected Senator Silver deeply and he had been greatly depressed for weeks. He was only thirty-one years of age and was one of the leading young politicians of the state. He served two terms in the legislature and at his death was serving the first year of his state senatorial term. For several years past, in addition to his political prominence, Senator Silver had been one of he foremost of Harford county fruit packers and one of the largest in the state.

Senator Silver was a graduate from Lafayette College. He died at his country seat, "Glenville." Many expressions of regret and sorrow are heard for the stricken wife, who has not yet recovered from the shock caused by her father's crime and conviction, and is now prostrated by the death of her husband. SMALL POX ON LA BOURGOGNE.

The Steamship Stopped at Quarantine and Passengers Vaccinated.

The French steamer La Bourgogne, which arrived at New York from Havre Saturday, had the latter portion of her voyage made interesting by the grounding of the vessel for twentyfour hours and the discovery of a case of smallpox on board. One of the cabin stewards was taken sick Saturday afternoon. The ship's doctor soon discovered that the man was suffering from small pox and had him isolated from the passengers and crew. That morning the man had been waiting on the table. When the Bourgogne arrived at quarantine Saturday afternoon the patient was removed to the pest hospital on North Brother Island. The doctor and one of his assistants then vaccinated all the passengers who had sat at the table at which the sick man waited and all the steward's

Yesterday at Cape May Point.

The threatening weather yesterday induced Cape May Point and forego the customary church services. At the cottage last night it was learned that the President would positively put in an appearance there again on Thursday, accompanied by several very prominent poli-ticians, notably members of his cabinet. Their stay will last until the following Tuesday.

Ex-Congressman Pelton Dead. Ex-Congressman Guy R. An examination showed he had ruptured several blood vessels near the heart. The body was conveyed to Livingston, where it was coffined and shipped to New York for burial.

Robert Laird Collier Dead. Robert Laird Collier, the well-known Chicago pulpit orator and newspaper correspondent, died Saturday midnight near Salisbury, Md. where for some time he has been living. He was born in Salisbury in 1835, became a Methodist clergyman, married a daughter of ex-Congreseman Hiram Price and, becoming a Unitarian, preached for many years in Chicago. For five years he was correspondent for the Boston Herald and Chicago Tribune from London. Garfield appointed him consul to Leipsic and Mr. Blaine recently offered him a foreign to this country and accepted a position with a family in Brooklyn as governess. There she met William Boettger, a decorative painter, who represented himself as a single man, and induced her to marry him. He took her to Baltimore, where she had friends, and from there to Philadelphia. Then he abandoned her, leaving her to pay the hotel bill. She discovered that Boettger had another wife living. Eliza sought to have Boettger 9, and she will probably remain at Bar Harbor 1 at 1 and 1 and 1 and 1 and 1 and 1 and 2 and 3 punished for bigamy, but the first wife refused to appear against him. The girl became disheartened and has disappeared. Her friends have asked the police to aid in the search for her. It is believed that she committed suicide.

Shot in a Bar Room. At Asheville, N. C., a shooting affray oc-curred Friday night in a bar room, in which John Milster, a bar keeper, was instantly killed and Philip McIntire, a butcher, received a shot in the breast, from which he died Saturday. Milster's body was riddled with bullets, an investigation disclosing eight holes. Milster was from Spartanburg, S.C., and was a single man. McIntire was married and leaves a family. A woman is supposed to have been the cause of the difficulty.

CRISIS IN GUATEMALA. Her Soldiers Revolt and San Salvador The Directors Arranging the Positions Continues Hostilities.

It is a generally admitted fact that Guate-

and will continue it until the latter country elects a legitimate president in place of Ezeta. Both Guatemala and Salvador are trying to mass troops with the utmost haste, but Guatemala finds difficulty in the dissatisfaction of her soldiers. It is claimed that the Guatemalan forces so greatly outnumber the Salvadorians that in the present week the tables will be turned. The revolt among the soldiers threatens to assume serious proportions, and it is feared that the entire army will soon make ommon cause with the revolutionists, who are gaining more power every moment. In fact, the cabinet officers have counseled the presi-dent to suspend hostilities with Salvador and turn his attention to the situation in Guatemala. President Barillas held a council of war Saturday and troops are being daily conscripted to carry on the war with Salvador. President Barillas wanted to assume the leadership of his troops against Salvador, but owing to the un-settled condition of affairs he has abandoned the idea of leaving the eapital. A proclama-tion has been issued warning all natives of Sal-vador to leave the territory of Guatemala within forty-eight hours. President Barillas has is-sued a decree declaring the whole republic in a state of siege and suspending the constitu-tional guarantees. There is considerable ex-citement in the capital, as it is said that the Salvador troops are within 60 miles of Guate-

65,000, while San Salvador has only about 10.000. The New York Herald's special from La Libertad, Salvador, says the latest advices fully confirms the accounts of the two victories of the Salvadorians over the Guatemalans—one at Chingo and the other at Atescalempo. The protested against the suppression of telegrams by the Guatemalan authorities, which supession, it is claimed, extends to private and commercial dispatches. Great consternation is said to prevail in Guatemala over the news of the two disasters to her army. The Herald's correspondent at the City of Mexico telegraphs that the reports of Guatemalan defeats are fully confirmed there; also that a revolutionary uprising took place in the department of Chiquimala, Guatemala, on Friday last. The military were called upon to fire on the mob, but refused to do so, and threw down their arms, and many of them joined the revolutionmala city and are constantly being reinforced.

It is understood that Honduras will remain neutral for the present, but may join with Guatemala if events require her. Guatemala

THE DUNLO-BILTON SUIT. Her Ladyship Sure That Her Husband Will Not Get His Divorce.

Lady Dunlo (Belle Bilton) will probably not be dispossessed of her ausband by the court. When her ladyship was visited the other day she wore a coquettish peignoir of pink-corded silk, with a dainty cape of old gold floating about her shoulders; but pretty as was her costume, the young girl who wore it-for Lady Dunlo is hardly more than a girl—was prettier by far. She is a beauty in the fullest sense of the word-the pure type of English beauty. Nor was there any "make up" about it. Her brows and lashes were penciled by nature's brush only. Her clear complexion had no need of paint and those masses of auburn hair. dressed in the Grecian style, were just as they had grown.

In speaking of his lordling's divorce suit Belle said: "And what is the crime, to be sure, for which I am so eruelly punished?—that there was a stain on my life before I married Lord Dunlo. But did not Lord Dunlo wipe away in the state penitentiary for embezzlement of that stain when he gave me his love and acthe public funds. Yesterday morning his son-in-law, Benjamin Silver, Jr., state senator, died Then, is it not the act of a coward, after he had put the ring of wedlock on my finger, knowing perfectly well what he was doing, to flaunt in my face later on that I had been the mistress of another?

"But they object to me on other grounds, I believe. Because I am supposed to come from the slums, a mere painted creature who dances on the tawdry stage and has neither family nor heart. I have no reason to be ashamed of my own family. My mother was Miss Penrice of Kilverough eastle. Glamorganshire, Wales, and my aunt married Sir Charles Van Notten Pole, colonel in the guards. Quite good enough I am to be daughter-in-law to that cantankerous old man, Lord Clancarty, who is drinking himself to death.
"As a matter of fact, though, it is Lady Clan-carty who has had the most to do with bringing the suit. You see, she knows her husband cannot live much longer at the rate he is now going, and, of course, at his death I would become Countess Clancarty, while she would be put upon the shelf as dowager countess. She is a tolerably young woman yet and don't take kindly to that idea at all, so she is trying to dispossess me of the title. But she won't succeed," added Lady Dunio, earnestly, "because I am not the bad woman they say I am and a jury will declare it so. Oh! I am sure they will," and her big blue eyes shone with conviction.

The lady's words are probably near the truth. There seems to be a notion abroad that Earl Clancarty is an impecunious Irish peer. Nothing can be further from the truth. Viscount Dunlo's father is not only a very large land owner himself, but he married the daughter of one of the wealthiest of English marquisesthe marquis of Bristol—and does not possess a large family. He owns at Garbally, County Galway, some 24,000 acres of land, and the valuation of $60,000 a year is not far from the ation of $60,000 a year is not far from the amount of his present income. He has another and smaller estate in Roscommon worth about $5,000 a year. The heir to $65,000 per annum cannot justly be described as a penniless peer.

A FAMILY WIPED OUT.

Cut Down by a Train While Avoiding a Yard Engine.

A frightful railroad accident occurred at the Harrison family to remain at the cottage at | Grafton, West Va., yesterday morning, resulting in the death of five people, members of one family. Just about the time the west-bound accommodation train was due Wm. Golden. his wife and three children started to cross the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad near the railroad hotel, but seeing a yard engine coming up the road, they stopped to let it pass. Mr. Golden was holding his two-yearold boy in his arms and his wife held a threemonths-old baby. When watching the engine the passenger train struck the family, instantly killing the husband, wife and two children and fatally injuring the boy who was in his father's arms, the little fellow dying in an hour. The engineer of the train signaled, but the noise of the yard engine prevented the approach of the train being heard.

INVENTOR ERICSSON'S REMAINS To Be Received in Sweden with the Honor Due an Admiral.

The Swedish executive committee in charge of the arrangements for the removal of the remains of the late Capt. Ericsson held a meeting in New York Saturday. The date of the obsequies will depend upon when the Secretary of the Navy will order a vessel to New York to receive the remains for transportation to Sweden. Major Louis F. Hailane was appointed grand marshal of the procession. Every Swedish society in New York and adjacent cities A pretty German girl named Eliza will participate. The committee received, Shearlich called at a police station in through the Swedish minister at Washington, a Brooklyn a few days ago to ask for the communication from King Oscar of Sweden arrest of a man who had wronged her and who stating that he was taking an active interest in had induced her to marry him while he had the final interment of the remains of the late another wife living. Eliza's parents are in good circumstances in Germany. She came to this country and accepted a position with were received with all the honors usually ac-

9, and she will probably remain at Bar Harbor until sailing for there. After that she is to carry Ericsson's body to Sweden.

Mrs. Langtry Sees Gebhardt Off. Mrs. Langtry was at the Waterloo station vesterday morning to see Freddy Gebhardt off. Just before the train left there was an affecting scene between them. Gebhardt sails from Southampton on the Eider for America. WORLD'S FAIR PLANS.

of the Various Buildings. The plan of division of the world's fair. which will be presented by the directors to the Illinois legislature today or tomorrow, is to place the art gallery, the government building and three other buildings containing a fine electrical display in the present lake front grounds, which are to be used as an entrance ground. At Jackson Park will be placed the big machinery hall, the stock show, a mineral palace, an underground mining exhibit, a glass factory, the several state exhibits, oriental villa, and such other novel and beautiful displays as may be offered later on. Gen. Fitzsimmons, the contractor, and J. T. Doughine, first vice president of the National Association of American Investors, have subnitted a new proposition for utilizing the lake front. Their scheme involves the building of a coffer dam from 13th street to Randolph with stone work, making it safe and water tight. They then propose to pump out the water, leaving a basin containing about 300 acres of land, including the 45 acres which are now there. This will leave ground on which the fair structure can be erected. At the water about the surface of the ground will be 18 feet edge the surface of the ground will be 13 fee below the water surface and gradually slope to the shore. This new land will be approached by ten or more subways running to the Illinois Central tracks. The top of the coffer dam will be 45 feet wide, and can be used for an extensive driveway. The base of this structure will be 80 feet in width. Messrs. Fitzsimmons and Doughine say they were willing to put up the pumping works to do the work and give bonds in the sum of $1,000,000 for the performance and maintenance of the same, and will furnish this clay bed, which they claim to be unexcelled for building purposes, at a cost of $1,250,000. The proposition will doubtless be referred to the committee on buildings and grounds.

KEMMLER BREAKING DOWN. The Time Approaching for the Mur derer's Death on the Electric Chair.

A week from tomorrow Kemmler will have ceased to live-at least that is the general opinion in Auburn, N.Y., although if Warden Durston has fixed upon the execution day in his own mind he has kept the matter to himself. But the week fixed by law within which the death sentence must be carried out begins on August 4. There is at this time not a ghost of a show of either a reprieve, a stay or any other legal jugglery. The Westinghouse Dynamo Company has exhausted the entire system of courts in the United States in a vain endeavor to prevent the use of their machine as public executioner and there remains no power to save Kemmler except executive intervention. Of this there is not the remotest chance. So the execution will go on, and it is believed Warden Durston will be anxious to get t over as soon as possible.

The committeemen will assemble at the prison the night before the execution and will stop there. The execution itself will probably ake place as early as 7 o'clock in the morning. This will make things as inconvenient as possi ble for the newspapers, which is one of the warden's ambitions, and will prevent the as-semblage of a great crowd about the prison gates, which is another. The terrible strain of suspense under which Kemmler has been for so long has begun to tell heavily upon him. There is no doubt that heretofore he has been buoyed up by certain vague hopes. He has now been told he must banish all this from his mind and face the inevitable. The result is that his won-derful nerve has at last been shaken. The little vanities and the childish interest in his new accomplishment of writing and reading, which kept up his spirits during the former ordeal, have now deserted him. He has grown careless in his dress, and he broods instead of interesting himself in books as he once did. He sleeps badly and is restless and nervous. Kemmler, when he went to Auburn, was a wild beast. His long experience of kind page and good influences have not only tamed him, but enlightened him, and with enlightenment and the gentler habit of mind there has gone from him not a little of the brute stoicism with which he would at one time have faced death.

Mrs. Durston, wife of the warden of the Auburn prison, has asked Mrs. Wailace Russell of Utica to visit her during the first week in August. This is the time set for the execution of Kemmler, and Mrs. Durston writes that she needs a friend and companion with her during those exciting days.

THE JOHNSTOWN FUNDS. A Claim That the Money Was Not Spen Honestly. A special to the New York Herald from Johnstown, Pa., says the correspondent spent several hours examining the books and accounts of the Johnstown flood finance committee, All told this committee has received $356,821.27. Of this $158,650 was paid out in the "$10 a head distribution," and this is the only part of the fund that was applied directly to the relief of the people. Of the remainder about $100,000 was expended by the various committees, clerk hire and incidental expenses, including $40,863.05 paid to the fire department and $28,598.11 paid in the first few days for removing the debris and dead bodies and which was afterward charged to the state. but no settlement of this account by the state has been made and the prospects are not good that it ever will be. There is yet in the hands of the committee about $100,000, most of which the committee intends to apply to building bridges. The action of this committee in using so much of this money for the fire department, and especially for building bridges, has been severely criticised, the claim—which is seemingly well founded—being made that it does not go to the relief of the needy, but instead is adding to the wealth of the property holders and men of means by relieving them of taxes, the benefit of which they will solely enjoy. This committee has also been much criticised because no statement of its work was ever given to the public, it only being in a general way that the people were informed that much of the money was being applied to building bridges and the like. Just how much or how little the auditing committee will find out is hard to tell, but with the mass of figures presented to them, it is doubtful if they will discover that a prominent citizen has drawn big pay for several weeks from two committees covering the same time. In a superficial examination of these accounts it is observed that all received pay for their work, and that but little work was done that was not paid for, even the citizens who assisted in carrying their own dead in the first days sending in a bill.

The Crown Princess of Greece Ill. Great anxiety exists in Berlin court circles regarding the condition of the crown princess of Greece, sister of Emperor William and granddaughter of Queen Victoria. On the 19th instant she was prematurely confined. None of her relatives were present when the child was born, only a nurse being in attendance. The princess is now very weak and in a critical condition.

The McKinley Mass Convention. The date decided upon for holding the mass convention of the sixteenth Ohio congressional district, at which William McKinley, jr., will be nominated by acclamation, is September 3. Arrangements are being made to send immense delegations from the four counties, and the oc-casion will be the opening of the campaign. Congressman Smyser will preside.

Mr. McDowell's Sixth Wife. Miss Belle Ross of Pittsburg. Pa., arrived at Jamestown, N. D., Friday and was married to Samuel McDowell of New Rockford. Neither had seen the other before. The union was effected through a Chicago matrimonial journal, in which McDowell had inserted an advertisement for a wife, to which Miss Ross replied. McDowell is a well-to-do farmer, thirty-eight years old. The bride is twenty-eight. This is McDowell's sixth matrimonial venture. Iwo of his wives have died and three left him.

tled part of Sonora, Mexico, about fifteen years ago. Capt. Villenueva and a lieutenant of a battery of light artillery belonging to one of the posts had some trouble about who was the best shot with the mountain howitzer.

They quarreled and agreed to settle it with the howitzer at 500 yards. They took neither seconds nor assistant gunners, but from the top of small hillocks they fired explosive shells at one another. The captain was wounded by a fragment of a shell, but they fired ten shows before either was disabled, though each was covered with dust.

Finally the captain landed a shell under his adversary's gun and the explosion so mangled the lieutenant that he died before they could remove him to the post
